

Succession in the six sovereign portfolios

Each block is one holder's continuous run, truncated where the next holder's begins. Alternating shades only separate neighbours; they carry no meaning. Gaps are years with no personally-dated record, not vacancies — 220 holdings across the six offices.